2. The tax concessions apply to eligible IP income derived from an eligible intellectual property in a year of assessment beginning on or after 1 April 2023. Upon the making of a valid election (Note 15) in respect of an eligible intellectual property (Note 4), the concessionary portion of assessable profits from eligible IP income (Note 23) derived from the eligible intellectual property in a year of assessment would be taxed at the concessionary tax rate of 5%.

15. To claim tax concessions for the concessionary portion of the assessable profits from an eligible intellectual property (Note 4), an irrevocable election in respect of the eligible intellectual property has to be made in writing. An election in respect of certain types of eligible intellectual properties is subject to the following further specifications and/or requirements:
- (a) for a granted patent and a divisional patent application (Note 16), if an election has been made in respect of an eligible patent that is a patent application (original patent application), the election is to be regarded as having also been made in respect of:
    - (i) the patents granted in pursuance of the original patent application; and
    - (ii) the divisional patent applications of the original patent application and the patents granted in pursuance of such divisional patent applications;

  - (b) in relation to a patent application filed with a patent office of any place outside Hong Kong, an application for a divisional patent filed under the law, instruments or rules of the patent office applicable to that application.
- A reference to a divisional patent application includes all subsequent divisional patent applications in respect of that application.
17. Upon occurrence of any of the following circumstances in relation to an eligible intellectual property in the year of assessment ("relevant year"), all concessionary portions of the assessable profits from the eligible IP income subject to the concessionary tax rate for the preceding years of assessment are to be regarded as trading receipts for the relevant year:
- (a) The eligible patent that is a patent is unconditionally revoked;
  - (b) The eligible patent that is a patent application is abandoned, refused or withdrawn;
  - (c) The eligible plant variety right that is a right mentioned in Note 8(a) above is cancelled or no longer subsists;
  - (d) The eligible plant variety right that is an application mentioned in Note 8(b) above lapses, is declined or withdrawn, or no longer subsists; and
  - (e) In relation to an eligible patent or an eligible plant variety right of which the date of filing (Note 11) is on or after the specified date (Note 14), the conditions specified in section 19 of Schedule 17FD to the IRO have not been met.

If any of the above circumstances occurred in the relevant year, Table A should be completed to provide details of the eligible intellectual property concerned. Details of up to 25 eligible intellectual properties can be provided in Table A. In case there are more than 25 eligible intellectual properties, please provide details of the remaining eligible intellectual properties in the same format on a separate sheet. In the separate sheet, please add your file number, year of assessment concerned and a remark "Additional" and sign at the bottom of the sheet.

18. The basis period must be the same as the relevant business.
19. An adjusted loss from an eligible intellectual property should not be set off against the assessable profits derived from another eligible intellectual property. The aggregate assessable profits from eligible IP income in respect of all eligible intellectual properties with assessable profits computed in accordance with the formula mentioned in Note 22 for the year of assessment should be input in section 2.3(a). Similarly, the aggregate adjusted losses from eligible IP income in respect of all eligible intellectual properties with adjusted losses should be input in section 2.3(b).
20. The aggregate concessionary portions of assessable profits (or adjusted losses, as the case may be) from eligible IP income in respect of all eligible intellectual properties computed in accordance with the formula mentioned in Note 23.
21. The definition of “eligible intellectual property” is provided in Note 4. The number of eligible intellectual properties can be counted in terms of the number of groups or collections of eligible intellectual properties covering the same invention or similar technical content. You are required to provide details in section 3.2 in respect of each eligible intellectual property covered in section 3.1. Details of up to 25 eligible intellectual properties can be provided in this form. In case there are more than 25 eligible intellectual properties, please provide details of the remaining eligible intellectual properties in the same format on a separate sheet. In the separate sheet, please add your file number, year of assessment concerned and a remark “Additional” and sign at the bottom of the sheet.
22. The assessable profits from eligible IP income are computed in accordance with the following formula:

$$I = A - B - C + D$$

Where:	I	means the assessable profits from the eligible IP income;
	A	means the eligible IP income;
	B	means the outgoings and expenses to the extent that they are incurred during the basis period for the year of assessment (“relevant basis period”) to produce A;
	C	means the allowances allowed under Part 6 of the IRO (depreciation, etc.), to the extent that the relevant assets counted for the allowances are used during the relevant basis period to produce A; and
	D	means the balancing charge to be made under Part 6 of the IRO, to the extent that the relevant assets counted for the balancing charge are used during the relevant basis period to produce A.

If the result of the above computation is a positive value (i.e. assessable profits), input the amount in section 3.2(j)(i) and “0” in section 3.2(j)(ii). If the result is a negative value (i.e. adjusted loss), input “0” in section 3.2(j)(i) and the amount in section 3.2(j)(ii).

23. The concessionary portion of assessable profits from eligible IP income is chargeable at the concessionary tax rate (i.e. 5% as specified under section 3(3) of Schedule 17FD to the IRO) and is computed in accordance with the following formula:

$$P = I \times F$$

Where:	P	means the concessionary portion;
	I	means the assessable profits from the eligible IP income; and
	F	means the R&D fraction applicable to those assessable profits.

The concessionary portion of an adjusted loss is computed on the same basis.

24. Where an eligible IP income accrues to an eligible person during the period from the first day of the eligible person’s basis period for the year of assessment 2023/24 to the last day of the eligible person’s basis period for the year of assessment 2025/26 and that eligible person has insufficient records to track and trace the R&D expenditure in respect of the eligible intellectual property involved, the transitional arrangement provided in section 23 of Schedule 17FD to the IRO may be adopted for ascertaining the R&D fraction (Note 30). That is, the amounts of eligible R&D expenditure (Note 25) and non-eligible expenditure (Note 29) in the formula for calculating the R&D fraction would be the respective amounts for any intellectual property of the eligible person during a period of 3 years ending on the last day of its basis period for the year of assessment during which the eligible IP income accrues.

25. “Eligible R&D expenditure” (“EE”) means any expenditure (including capital expenditure) incurred by an eligible person during the specified period (Note 26) for an R&D activity that is connected to the eligible intellectual property to which the eligible IP income relates (“subject intellectual property”) and is carried out:
- (a) by the eligible person;
  - (b) on behalf of the eligible person by a non-associated person (Note 27); or
  - (c) in Hong Kong on behalf of the eligible person by its associated person who is a Hong Kong resident person (Note 28).

EE does not include interest payments, payments for any land or building, or for any alteration, addition or extension to any building; and any expenditure for obtaining the subject intellectual property or any right in respect of the property from another person. For details, please refer to section 13 of Schedule 17FD to the IRO.

26. “Specified period”, in relation to an eligible person to whom any eligible IP income accrues, means the period beginning on 1 April 2023 or on an earlier date elected by the eligible person; and ending on the last day of the eligible person’s basis period for the year of assessment during which the income accrues.

27. For the purposes of Schedule 17FD to the IRO, a person is to be regarded as associated with another person if, as between them, the participation condition is met under section 50AAG of the IRO; and a reference to an associated person is to be read accordingly.

28. Hong Kong resident person means a person who is resident for tax purposes in Hong Kong within the meaning of section 50AAC(1) of the IRO.

29. Non-eligible expenditure (“NE”) includes the following expenditures (including capital expenditure) incurred by the eligible person during the specified period (Note 26) in respect of the subject intellectual property:

- (a) any expenditure for obtaining the subject intellectual property or any right in respect of the property from another person;
- (b) any expenditure for an R&D activity that is connected to the subject intellectual property and is carried out:
  - (i) on behalf of the eligible person by its associated person (Note 27) who is a non-Hong Kong resident person; or
  - (ii) outside Hong Kong on behalf of the eligible person by its associated person who is a Hong Kong resident person (Note 28).

NE does not include interest payments and payments for any land or building, or for any alteration, addition or extension to any building. For details, please refer to section 14 of Schedule 17FD to the IRO.

30. The R&D fraction applicable to assessable profits from an eligible IP income is computed in accordance with the following formula and capped at 100%:

$$\frac{EE \times 130\%}{EE + NE}$$
