

A guide to Salaries Tax (2)

which income is assessable and which deductions are allowable

Foreword

This guide helps you understand what income is assessable and what deductions are allowable under Salaries Tax.

It does not touch on the question of source of income. To know more about the tax rules, you have to refer to the Inland Revenue Ordinance (“IRO”) (Cap. 112) and its subsidiary legislations.

The Charge to Salaries Tax

Directors receiving directors’ fees, employees receiving salaries, wages, commission, bonus and perquisites and pensioners receiving pensions are required to pay Salaries Tax.

Benefits in kind may also be taxable, e.g., the provision of a place of residence by the employer, the “Rental Value” (RV) will be computed and charged to tax.

Matter of Concern

The law requires both the employer and the employee to separately report income to the Inland Revenue Department. Failure by either party to report the full income may result in an understatement of income without reasonable excuse, an act liable to heavy penalty.

Income

For the purposes of Salaries Tax, the assessable income includes:

Details	Remarks
Salaries/wages	These should be the gross amount before deducting the employee's contributions to a Mandatory Provident Fund Scheme (MPFS) or an MPF-exempted ORSO Scheme.
Commission (include "Dim Yung"), bonus, leave pay, end-of-contract gratuities	Generally speaking, with the exception of a handful of exempt items (e.g., payments in lieu of notice of termination of employment accrued up to 31 March 2012, compensation for injuries, payments specifically exempted under the IRO), almost all payments made by the employer to the employee are taxable, regardless of : <ul style="list-style-type: none">◆ whether the amount was paid according to/in excess of the terms of employment; and◆ whether the amount was paid pre-commencement, post-cessation or during the course of employment.
Allowances or perquisites	These include cash allowances for food, travelling, housing, cost of living and education benefits (i.e., payments made directly or indirectly by your employer to educational institutions for the education of your children) and perquisites that may be converted into cash or are money's worth (such as gift of motor car, award of shares, etc).
Tips from any person	e.g. tips paid by the customers to the waiters of a restaurant.
Salary tax paid by employer	Any Salaries Tax paid by the employer is an additional reward to the employee. For example, tax paid for you in the year of assessment 2017/18 is regarded as your income for that year.

Details	Remarks
Value of a place of residence	This value is normally computed as 10% of your income from the employer after deduction of outgoings and expenses (but not self-education expenses).
Share option gain	This refers to the gain realized by: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ◆ the exercise of, ◆ the assignment, or ◆ the release of, a right to acquire shares or stock in a corporation.
Back pay, gratuities, any terminal/retirement awards and gratuities	You may apply to have the whole sum of money related back to the earning period, up to a maximum of 36 months.
Payment in lieu of notice (accrued on or after 1 April 2012)	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ◆ Payment in lieu of notice contractually agreed ◆ Payment in lieu of notice made under section 7 of the Employment Ordinance (Cap 57)
Payments received from retirement schemes	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ◆ Unrecognized occupational retirement scheme Any amount representing the employer's contributions and related investment return is assessable to tax as your income, regardless of when and why the payment was made to you. ◆ Recognized occupational retirement scheme Unless the payment to you meets any of the exemption criteria described below, any amount representing the employer's contributions and related investment return is assessable as your income. ◆ Mandatory provident fund scheme Unless the payment to you meets any of the exemption criteria described below, any amount (whether in a lump sum or (if applicable) as an instalment) representing the employer's voluntary contributions and related investment return is assessable as your income

	(N.B. the amount representing the employer's mandatory contributions and related investment return is not taxable). Whole sum exempted when made on <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • retirement, • termination of service, if service period is 10 years or more, • incapacity, • terminal illness, or • death. Part of sum exempted when made on: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • termination of service, if service period is below 10 years; the amount to be exempted is to be computed by reference to the completed number of months of service.

Income not chargeable to Salaries Tax (not required to be reported in tax return) includes:

- ◆ fees paid for your having served as juror, and
- ◆ severance payment or long service payment payable by the employer on termination of employment under the Employment Ordinance.

Deductions

In summary, there are 3 types of deductions that you may claim to deduct from your assessable income in your tax return -

- ◆ outgoings and expenses (including expenses of self-education),
- ◆ concessionary deductions, and
- ◆ allowances (except for taxpayers paying Salaries Tax at standard rate).

(1) Outgoings and expenses (including expenses of self-education)
