STAMPING PROCEDURES AND EXPLANATORY NOTES

e-Stamping of Share Transfer Instruments

Background

The Stamp Office has launched a new electronic service allowing stamping of contract notes and instruments of transfer of Hong Kong stocks via e-Stamping. As an alternative to conventional stamping, the e-Stamping service allows users to submit stamping applications on an individual share transaction basis or in bulk with a maximum of 5,000 instruments anytime and anywhere without presenting the original instruments to the Stamp Office. Users are only required to input details of the share transactions and upload the required supporting documents (if applicable). Upon successful payment of stamp duty, a stamp certificate will be generated.

Scope of Services

2. The new electronic service generally applies to the following transactions:-
 - (i) Application on individual share transaction basis
 - sale and purchase of listed or non-listed Hong Kong stocks; and
 - transfer of listed or non-listed Hong Kong stocks.
 - (ii) Application in bulk
 - sale and purchase of listed or non-listed Hong Kong stocks;
 - transfer of listed or non-listed Hong Kong stocks; and
 - sale and purchase of listed Hong Kong stocks (jobbing business).
3. To enjoy the above service, users can simply click “e-Stamping” at the IRD homepage or “Stamping of Share Transfer Document” under the heading of “Business” in the eTAX Service Main Menu to select the service required (Appendix A). A step-by-step walkthrough of the process is available at the IRD website (www.ird.gov.hk).
4. Certain share transfer instruments cannot be submitted via the e-Stamping system for stamping, such as share transfers involving derivatives or share swap, indebtedness incurred taken as whole or part of the consideration, or the consideration is subject to adjustment. If the stamping application cannot be submitted via e-Stamping, please submit it to the Stamp Office.

Authentication Means

5. After selecting the relevant applications (Appendix B), users can input authentication by one of the following means:-
 - (a) E-Stamp Account and password;
 - (b) Taxpayer Identification Number and eTax password; or
 - (c) Digital Certificate issued by Hongkong Post or the Digi-Sign Certification Services Ltd.
